

WORK ON FIRST BILL
FOR FIRST PROGRAMCONGRESSMAN COVINGTON BUSY WITH DRAFT OF INTERSTATE TRADE
ACT.

PROVISIONS OUTLINED

Proposed Legislation Would Subject
All Interstate Business to Careful Scrutiny of Government Agents.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 23.—Work on an interstate trade commerce bill for the administration of the proposed legislation was undertaken today by a house interstate commerce sub-committee. Covington of Maryland, the chairman, was ready for data for use as the basis of draft put together after careful study of the subject, examination of the various bills already introduced and a conference with President Wilson.

Views of President.

The views of the president, who has indicated that the trade commission bill is first in importance among the proposed measures, are expected to prevail in the bill when the sub-committee is out.

It is proposed to have only big business subjects to the jurisdiction of the trade commission; but how a limit shall be fixed is still an open question.

The president has suggested the difficulty of framing a limitation in terms of dollars and that it might be impracticable to exempt all concerns under $5,000,000 capitalization from the commissions inquisitorial powers.

Some of the provisions likely to be embodied in the sub-committee draft of the bill, it is understood, would require:

That all the corporations, joint stock companies and corporate combinations subject to the terms of the bill to annually report all required information statements and records of their organization, bond holders and stockholders, business practices, and relations to other concerns of the same name.

Specifically all questions the commission may ask at any time.

That failure to comply within thirty days of the required time would be deemed a misdemeanor subject to a fine of not exceeding $1,000 for every day of the failure to comply.

Investigation Power.

That upon its own initiative or upon reasonable cause shown by any person or corporation or firm, the commission "may" and upon the attorney's request "shall" investigate the organization, conduct, and management of any concern subject to its jurisdiction, if any such concern is found violating the law, the commission shall report to the attorney general setting forth these acts and practices and what conduct and readjustment of business is necessary for the offending concern to continue business, this report to be made public only upon the attorney general's direction.

That, if the commission during an investigation should obtain information concerning any competition and practices not necessarily violative of then existing law, it would report this information to the president, upon whose direction alone it would be made public.

That the commission, if it has any equity suit brought at the instance of the attorney general to refer whether during progress of the cause or after judgment to the commission any aspect of the litigation or any proposed defense, the commission too reports its findings to the court to become part of the record in the cause.

Provides Annual Report.

That the commission report to congress by December 1st each year giving facts and statistics that would not contravene the limitations on publicity already mentioned and recommending any necessary additional legislation.

That the commission has as to all these concerns the same power and authority as the present law, confers on the interstate commerce commission as to railroad and other common carriers, including the right to subpoena witnesses and compel the production of documentary evidence and administering of oaths.

OLD PORTRAITS OF
WASHINGTON FOUNDOne of the Three Silk Woven Relics
Made by French Woman From Paintings to University.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Pittsburgh, Feb. 23.—Yellow with age and faded in a cheap gilt frame, one of the three silk woven portraits of George Washington, made by an unknown French woman from Stuart's painting has been recovered by Rev. T. M. Weaver of New York, after it had been lost many years.

Announcement of the finding of the portrait and its presentation to the University of Pittsburgh was made today, it having been placed in keeping of the institution several weeks ago when the university was engaged in a campaign for a three million dollar fund when it was planned to sell it for the fund. It is now proposed to have the Pittsburg chapter of the D. A. B. buy the portrait and permit it to remain at the university.

NOTED EDUCATOR ON TRIAL FOR FORGERYPeoria Man Has Record, Rivaling
Raffles, for Many Frauds in School
Work—Eddie Fay in Case.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Havana, Ill., Feb. 23.—Convicted of embezzlement of Peoria city school funds aggregating nearly a million dollars, sentenced to Joliet penitentiary, paroled and induced to give up private property in partial restitution for his stealings, Newton C. Dougherty, formerly president of the National Educators' Association, regarded as a foremost educator in Peoria, was on trial here today on charge of forgery growing out of his attempts to recover lands he deeded to the Peoria board of education.

The case came up here on change of venue from the Peoria circuit court and is being tried before Judge Guy Williams, the youngest circuit judge in the state.

The record of Dougherty's petty stealings covering a period of twenty years, rivals the tale of Raffles. Dougherty had been president of the state normal university at Normal, state superintendent of public instruction, and superintendent of the Peoria public schools, holding in the meantime the position as head of the National Educators' Association, later held by Nicholas Murray Butler and other equally famous educators. He was also president of a Peoria bank, and this position enabled him to pad his pay rolls of the city schools and cash the checks without detection.

During twenty years, accountants estimated he stole over $700,000. An obscure bank clerk gave information in 1905 which led to Dougherty's arrest and indictment. He pleaded guilty, was sentenced to the Joliet penitentiary and served his term until paroled in 1912. His bank robberies were paroled. Then he was suspected of connection with the frauds but escaped indictment.

Shortly after Dougherty entered the state prison, Eddie Quinn, a convicted bank robber, escaped. Eddie Tate, another convict, was paroled. Then one morning it was found that the safe in the offices of the Peoria school board had been blown, and in the furnace in the building was found the charred remains of papers held as evidence against the convicted school head.

Tate, Quinn and a third robber, Eddie Fay, were indicted by the Peoria county grand jury. Tate was brought to Peoria by escape from a Colorado man at a hospital where he was recovering from an illness. He was arrested in Chicago on another charge and sentenced to Joliet. Fay and Quinn were never captured. Tate was killed in a running fight following a big stamp robbery in Virginia. Quinn was slain by a village marshal in an Ohio city. Before his parole Dougherty turned over to the Peoria board extensive land holdings in Arizona, Missouri and Wisconsin, and a suit against his bondsmen yielded $25,000. After his release Dougherty began suit to recover the lands. He lost two suits, and was indicted for forgery in connection with them, on which charge he was arraigned today.

Neither Dougherty's genius for crime nor his courage and confidence have failed him from the day of his arrest in 1905 until his arraignment today.

AT SANTA MONICA TRACK

[CALIFORNIA ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Santa Monica, Cal., Feb. 23.—So close to the Pacific that the boom of the surf swelled the roar of the competing machines, the Grand Prix, the second automobile classic to be staged on the Santa Monica course within three days, was decreed here today. With two or three added contestants, the entry list for today's race was almost identical with that for the Vanderbilt cup race which was run here last Saturday. The distance, however, was considerably greater—403.248 miles over a course 3,401 miles long. Three thousand dollars waited at the finish for the winner. Two thousand went to the runner-up, with $1,500 and $1,000 to the next two.

HEAVY STORMS HIT
WESTERN TERRITORY
CRIPPLING TRAFFICHowling Blizzards Strike Coast States
While Cold Rains Fall in Gulf States.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Feb. 23.—The worst snow storm of the winter, which started yesterday, continued early today over a large part of the middle west.

Throughout Missouri, Iowa, Central and Southern Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana and Ohio a heavy snow was falling accompanied by a high wind. Telegraph and telephone wires were demoralized, especially south and west of here, and steam railroad traffic was badly delayed.

In Central Illinois and Missouri many trains were reported stalled by the deep snow, which was drifted badly by the winds. Interurban lines were put out of commission and in several cities street car traffic was entirely stopped.

Around Lake Michigan the storm abated during the night and early today it was less bad. The thermometer registered 16 above zero at 7 o'clock. Colder weather and snow was the forecast today for Chicago.

Washington, Feb. 23.—A howling Tennessee blizzard is the latest storm to whip the east with icy rains and snow.

Driving snows were falling in the Ohio valley, the middle Atlantic states and Southern New England, while the south Atlantic and gulf states were having cold rains.

A cold wave following in its wake today it is predicted will drive down the thermometers south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi. Storm warnings were ordered up all along the Atlantic coast from Cape Henry to Eastport, Maine. The probabilities were, however, that the storm will be short lived and pass out to sea by Wednesday, to be followed by warmer weather.

Marinette, Feb. 23.—All trains on the Peninsula division of the North-western road have been several hours late since Saturday, due to the partial wrecking of the big bridge over the Peshtigo river seven miles south of here.

A logging train which passed here Saturday is the cause of the trouble. A car load of logs broke away on the bridge, snapping iron braces and tearing up the ties for about fifty feet. Two passenger trains were pushed over the bridge Sunday, locomotives at either end doing the work, but the bridge wobbled so that the trains were delayed. The bridge for two days trains have been passing over the St. Paul and Michigan via Bagley Junction to make Peshtigo and Marinette, a route that requires a piece of time delay.

A big wrecking crew is making temporary repairs which may be completed today.

Sister Ship Catches Distress Signal But Land Stations Are Unable to Understand Code.

The Lizard, Feb. 23.—S. O. S. signal from the German steamer Wilderfels was picked up by her sister ship, Trautentfels and communicated by wireless telegraph to the signal station at the harbor today.

The distressed Wilderfels was half way across the Bay of Biscay on her way from Hamburg to Calcutta when passengers and freight when the urgent S. O. S. signal was caught at noon.

A later wireless dispatch from the British S. S. La Corrientina from La Plata for England says the Wilderfels does not require assistance. The message sends with the cryptic phrase, "the living crew are saved."

Shipping men here are unable to understand what this means, unless it indicates that there was an explosion on board.

WILL TRY NEGRO IN
GIRL MURDER CASENew Angles Bring Charges Against Negro in Murder Case at Atlanta
Shop Girl.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 23.—Interest in the murder of Mary Phagan, 14-year-old factory girl for which Leo M. Frank is under death sentence, was revived by the prospect that James Conley would be placed on trial here today on charge of being an accessory to the crime. Conley, a negro sweep, was the factory where the girl was murdered, and of which Frank was superintendent, testified at the latter's trial that he had helped dispose of Mary Phagan's body after Frank had killed her.

Publication of two affidavits charging conspiracy to produce false evidence against Frank and alleged to have been sworn to by witnesses against him at his trial, added a new angle to the mystery surrounding the factory girl's death.

One of these accredited to Alfred McKnight, a negro, alleges that the story of Frank's movements on the days of the murder told by Knight, a white man, was untrue and had been prepared by a white man. The other affidavit alleged to have been sworn to by Mrs. Nina Formby, who gave evidence to the police department of the case against Frank, presented the case against Frank of evidential gaps the young factory superintendent.

CASHIER IS KILLED
BY BOY HIGHWAYMENYouth Shoots Expressman, Attempts to Open Safe, and Is Trailed by Bloodhounds.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Corning, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Harry Edward, night cashier of an express company here, was shot and instantly killed today by David Dunn, a 23-year-old boy, who is only nineteen years old, was captured and charged with the crime. He is a former employee of the company and had been given permission to sleep in the office last night.

In a struggle with Edward he drew a revolver and shot the agent through the heart.

After assuring himself that Edward was dead Dunn made two unsuccessful attempts to open the safe and get out the express money. He then saw a shipment of dogs and turned back, which had arrived during the night and was to have gone west today. He was interrupted in his work by two police dogs which he answered to ally suspicion.

Finding he could not open the safe Dunn escaped, leaving a trail of bloody footprints in the snow. A bloodhound was put on the scent and followed the trail. Officers who went to question Dunn as a possible source of information found his shoes covered with blood and a revolver and bloodstained clothing in the mattress of his bed.

SELLS TROUT DURING CLOSED SEASON FROM PRIVATE AQUARIUM

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Superior, Wis., Feb. 23.—State game law has no terrors for Nick Lucius, postmaster here. During the closed season he blithely sells trout at 7 cents per pound and the game wardens never touch him.

Lucius does not claim to be above the law. He has a decent and healthy fish of his own and in his aquarium he has been able to produce lake trout that command the top price.

One of the discoveries made by this fish fancier relates to the illness of fish.

"It's against the law," he says, "to catch trout under the certain size. If a catch is made the fish is to be taken on the spot and thrown back into the water. But it is not known generally that if a fish is handled with dry hands the slime or coating of its body is removed, which starts a fungus contagion and fatal to the entire fish tribe. It would be better if fishermen would not throw the catch back into the water unless they are educated to wet their hands before releasing the victim."

WOMEN TESTIFY THAT SOLDIERS USED FORCE
WITHOUT ANY CAUSEWives of Striking Miners Tell of Brutal Mistreatment of Soldiers and Deputy Sheriffs.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 23.—Wives of striking miners testified today before the congressional committee that they had been kicked and beaten by a deputy sheriff and other ways mistreated by soldiers without cause.

Mrs. Boris Fedar charged that on July 10 last, Undersheriff Richard grabbed her by the hair and dragged her into the yard of her home at Kearsarge. She said deputies and soldiers were searching for her husband and the undersheriff attacked her when she refused to tell where he was. One soldier hit her with his gun, she said, and two others fired two shots into the door of the kitchen.

Mrs. Emri Pharo, a Hungarian woman, said she was kicked in the ribs and beaten by deputies at Mohawk on Sept. 10, then was taken handcuffed to Eagle River and lodged in jail, where she was kept for one day. She did not know what she was charged with but said she was found not guilty. In cross examination she denied she and three other women taken at the time were arrested for picketing and interfering with non-union men.

WARDEN FAVORS PLAN FOR CONVICT ROADSWarden Woodward, After Inspection of California System, Advises
Convict Made Roads.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Waupun, Wis., Feb. 23.—Road building by convicts under the honor system is, in the opinion of Warden Daniel Woodward of the Wisconsin state prison, as feasible for the state as for Colorado.

The warden recently spent some time investigating the Colorado system and in riding over the convict camps he was struck by the large number of convicts with productive labor.

He advises that Wisconsin follow the Colorado plan. He believes that system has been made almost perfect in five years.

"I believe," said Mr. Woodward, "that the personnel at our institution compares favorably in point of intelligence with that of the Colorado pen. They have a large number of Mexican prisoners with whom we are not bothered. Warden Tynan says that he can work 70 per cent of his men."

"It seems to me that Wisconsin could work fifty per cent, or about 350 men. The honor system in Colorado is materially helped by the indeterminate sentence and the good time law and it is my opinion that Wisconsin is very much in need of these laws."

Convict labor, according to the warden, can be used only in those counties which the highway commissions ask for it. If the Colorado plan is followed, fifty or one hundred men will be sent out with one or two unarmed guards to form a camp near where the work is to be done. The men are on honor not to escape and if they keep faith do not return to the prison. The entire cost of the camp except for clothing, is borne by the highway commissions in lieu of wages.

"I spent several days in studying the plan," said the warden, "and found that the present good roads of Colorado are the result of using convict labor."

BANK CLERKS HELD
FOR BIG SHORTAGERefuse Bail for Two Clerks Charged With Losing Sixty Thousand of Bank's Money on Horse.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Feb. 23.—Alonso M. Woolsey, teller in the Plaza branch of the Union Trust Company, who, with Joseph T. White, a bookkeeper, is charged with pecuniary losses estimated at $60,000, was arraigned in court today. Both men had a preliminary hearing Saturday, but Woolsey appeared today and asked to be admitted to bail, which had been set at $3,000. The magistrate refused to accept the bond which was offered by a surety company. He declared he would confer with the district attorney before releasing either of the men.

Henry J. Goldsmith, counsel for Woolsey, said today the funds misappropriated by the two men may total more than $60,000. Goldsmith declared much of the money taken from the bank has been in the hands of the two men since they were arrested. Upon one occasion he said White lost $7,000 on a single race.

According to Goldsmith, his client received no benefit from the manipulation. It is his contention that Woolsey discovered White's shortage, but protected him by making false entries on credit slip. Then by various bookkeeping devices the men would enter the bank the amount on the slips as cash taken out of the bank for use by White. White did not take the whole amount at any one time, but carried away small sums from $50 to $100.

Sport Snap Shots

Hub Perdue weeps. Last fall he signed a three-year contract with Stallings of the Boston Braves, little thinking that the Braves would ever make the show they have. An now this winter, while Hub was gaged and bound with his Boston contract he was approached by Joe Finkler and made the most alluring offers. Both of the offers were for a salary more than twice as large as the one he will get with the Braves. And to make it all the worse, there is a possibility that he will have to work for Charlie Murphy. What a cruel and ruthless fate pursues Perdue.

They're still wrangling over that Gibbons-McFarland scrap and the latest bit seems to be that Billy Gibbons insists that Eddie Reddy, Gibbons' manager, posts a $1,500 forfeit. We are assured that McFarland has agreed to all the arrangements and the only possible hitch now is that the Gibbons people should fall to come clean with the forfeit. However, Billy Gibbons assures the reader that this will be satisfactorily adjusted.

Willie Hoppe, the billiard champ, finds his field of endeavor very lucrative indeed. That is to say, Willie knocks down a mighty nest of eggs every year. He figures when he adds to the sums that he manages to gather at the contests he takes part in, that his yearly income is something like $25,000. Which is very bit as good, and some cases quite a bit better, than other sport champs are able to garner. An idea of what Hoppe makes in a match is shown by the fact that he copped off some $4,800 in his match with George Sutton at New York not so very long ago. He won the championship emblems and also a little side bet of $500. It is one of the rules that any challenger has to put up a side bet of $500. This is done that no mediocre players will try to link their names in a match with the champ. In billiards, as in scarcely any other sport, the winner takes all. Hoppe will meet Sutton again in Chicago not far hence, and he gets a good chance at another $5,000.

Eddie Plank is the only hold-out of the world's champs. He was offered the same wages that was his last season and so he returned his contract to Connie Mack unsigned. There is no reason to believe that the old ball pitcher will appear with the Athletics this summer, but he wanted to make it clear to his boss that he figured he was worth a little bit of a raise. Eddie would remind Connie that he won the last game of the series last fall when he gave the Giants but two hits, and Connie Mack himself declared that Plank pitched far better ball for the team last year than for many seasons before. Wherefore Eddie would like a little better compensation. And regarding the matter from a most unkind view, it seems that he ought to get it. Most everyone expects that he will, and he probably will.

CHAMPION RITCHIE DECIDES TO FIGHT

Footlight Champion Wants to Pocket Receipts and Plans Campaign—Meets Rivers.

(Special to this Gazette.) San Francisco, Feb. 23.—One of the most ambitious campaigns ever planned by any fighter was being mapped out here today by Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world. Two movies were back of the plan. The first and foremost was the money angle. The other was the determination of the champion to disprove the charges of cowardice hurled in his direction when injuries prevented the fulfillment of two engagements here with Harlem Tommy Murphy.

A fight a month at $15,000 per fight from April to November is the campaign planned by Ritchie. He may also accept several ten-round engagements in New York, New Orleans, providing he can get his price—$10,000 for thirty minutes' work. The weight of a bushel of salt as established by the different states varies from fifty to eight pounds.

The bout between Schaffer and Bauman will be a test of the science against youth and strength, for the Chicago battler is a veteran of many hard clashes and has always been successful in defending himself with his cleverness and speed. Whether Bauman will be able to beat down Schaffer's guard, to mix in the close work, is the answer to be solved Thursday night. Bauman has a stinging punch in the body work and Schaffer is considered a master at the long range fighting. This is the first time these two men have met and the outcome will be watched by boxing fans throughout the west for Bauman is climbing the pugilistic ladder at a rapid gait.

"Beard" Ward, the Beloit boy, who has great ambitions in the glove game, will have to tune up that k. o. wallop if he expects to end his Janesville battle as quickly as he finished his opponent in the Beloit ring, for the Milwaukee pug who is to oppose him, is no slouch at the game, and many fans in this city who saw Ward travel at Beloit, expect to see the Milwaukee man make him go under a new in the first preliminary.

SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR CHURCH LEAGUE

Program of Games Has Been Issued by Board of Control—League Closes on April 10th.

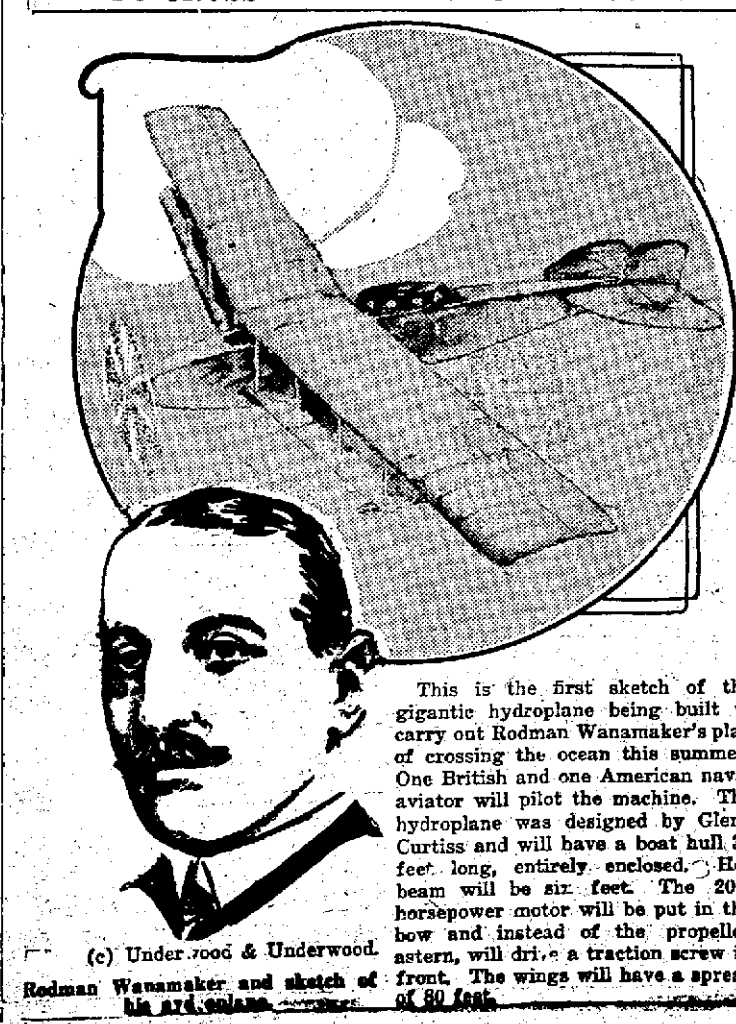

The schedule of games to be played in the Janesville Church Basketball League has been issued by the board of control. These games will be played in the high school gymnasium every Friday night unless other arrangements are made. When two games are scheduled, the first will be called at seven-thirty p. m. and the second immediately after the end of the first game. When one game is scheduled, which is the case when the high school quiet plays at home, the game will be called at the hour set by Coach Curtis. Without further notice, captains are responsible for the appearance of their teams as scheduled. Failure to appear involves forfeiture.

Following is the list of games which necessitates the playing of teams until April 10th. The league will close on this date, and if there is to be a deciding game for first place, it will be scheduled for a later date.

Feb. 13—Baptist vs. Methodist.
Feb. 20—Catholic vs. Congregational.
Feb. 27—Episcopal vs. Presbyterian.
Feb. 27—Baptist vs. Congregational.

March 13—Catholic vs. Presbyterian.
March 20—Baptist vs. Catholic.

Baptist vs. Episcopal.
April 3—Baptist vs. Presbyterian.
Catholic vs. Methodist.
April 10—Catholic vs. Episcopal.
Congregational vs. Methodist.

The enthusiasm is evidently soaring, for this morning every team in the league was occupying the high school and Y. M. C. A. gymnasiums from eight o'clock until noon. The various coaches were handing their teams in line shape, and the games from now on will be worth seeing.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE TRAFFIC."
Rachael Marshall's astounding drama of the commerce in girls, "The Traffic," which has scored nothing less than sensation in Chicago, will be seen at the Myers theater on Tuesday, Feb. 24. At first the critics of Chicago, admitting the power and truth of "The Traffic," doubted the sincerity of purpose of its author, Miss Marshall, a young woman who has spent the greater portion of her life heading reform movements, and whose investigation of the terrible conditions attendant upon the white slave traffic were responsible for her writing "The Traffic" in an effort to open the eyes of the general public to the condition as it exists and flourishes in many of the biggest American cities, in the hopes that it might arouse sufficient interest to bring forth legislation that would bring an end to such terrible conditions.

Since the opening, however, it has been highly endorsed by Lieutenant Governor Barrett O'Hara, of Illinois, Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton of Hull House, Major Funkhouser of the police department of Chicago, and a number of earnest reformers, who,

"WANT MORE MONEY," SAYS RAY COLLINS

Ray Collins, pitcher for the Boston Americans, is a holdout. "Unless the Red Sox come across with an increase over last year's salary I will stick to farming," he declares.

while admitting that it is rather frank and severe, nevertheless indorse it as a powerful lesson and warning to all young men and women.

"The Traffic" goes straight without any delicate short-cuts to the causes, the methods, the motives and results of commercialized vice. Its fascination and pointed truths disclose the industrial reasons that start so many girls on the road to brothel. Poverty, sickness and dirt—all caused by insufficient pay for honest work—constitute the home and environment for many ignorant and innocent girls, and they are soon made aware that there is a way—the way only as they see it—by which they can get a share of the world's one standard treasure—money.

The producers of "The Traffic" have provided an exceptionally fine cast of players, including Bess Sankey, who is seen in the leading feminine role, and King Strong, who enacts the "cadet" role, "Vic Connors," while in its presentation and production it bears the touch of Belasco.

THE APOLLO.
Thomas Jefferson, son of the late Joseph Jefferson, will be seen in a feature photo play at the Apollo Tuesday and Wednesday, as Billy West in "Wanted by the Police."

Doris Moore, a beautiful stenographer, falls into the hands of a white slave dealer called Kingdon, through her poverty and inability to pay her rent. She is in love and engaged to marry Billy West, who is the fastest telegraph operator in the world, but who is addicted to drink.

Kingdon makes Doris meet a millionaire, who soon sees she is an innocent girl and befriends her. He is killed by Kingdon and the blame is put on Doris. By the help of Billy West and his brother, who is a mounted police, she escapes on an engine and is immediately followed by the police. Now comes one of the most daring and sensational acts ever shown on the screen. The engine goes at sixty miles per hour. The chase that follows and the final clearing up of the charges, and the arrest of the guilty, make a picture story that will compel attention from beginning to end.

SATURDAY'S MEETING IS NO PARTY AFFAIR

SPONSOR'S RESENT IMPLICATION THAT STALWARTS ARE BEHIND AGITATION.

BUT ONE PREREQUISITE

Persons Opposed to Unwarranted Extravagance in State Administration Will Be Eager to Attend.

That the mass meeting of Rock county farmers and business men called for last Saturday at the hotel house, is sponsored by no political party, faction or interest, is the assertion of members of the committee of the present call published in the Gazette of last Friday, who represented the announcement of a Beloit newspaper that the call was issued by stalwarts.

Just one prerequisite for attendance at this meeting," declared one of the men interested in the movement, "and that is recognition of the unmitigated extravagance of the present administration of government in Wisconsin. We must be behind this meeting do not claim to be anything else than citizens interested in securing, if possible, some relief and some correction for present unbearable conditions."

The movement is similar to the gathering which was held in Grant county a week or so ago, although the Rock county men have been considering such an expression for over a month. The exposition of the state finances and the reasons for the same, as submitted by Tax Commissioner Adams and Haurin in this city a week ago, added fuel to the coals of indignation which have been smoldering in Janesville, and Rock county for several months.

"It is an outrage that these men should have come here and tell us that they knew that taxes were high, that they would go higher, and that they would not do anything to relieve them," said one of the committee men today. "We as citizens, cannot stand mildly by with folded arms and allow these men to say such things. It's time for some action. We have submitted to these delusions long enough. They say there is no remedy—we'll investigate that part of it. That's the reason for this mass meeting. It's a radical movement to do something radical. Just what will be the result can be determined later."

It is possible that a special invitation will be extended to the representatives of Rock county in the legislature, although these gentlemen are welcome without a special summons. Assemblyman D. Rosa has already announced his interest in the meeting and will be called upon for a few remarks and to answer some questions. If he attends, the members of the legislature will receive their share of blame for the present situation.

This agitation which is now well under way all over Wisconsin is being spread into a more organized state movement, according to those who are in reading the signs of the times, and a state convention may be the logical outcome.

The call for the Rock county meeting is given below:

Rock County Mass Convention.
Please take notice, that there will be a non-partisan farmers' and business men's mass convention held at the court house, in Janesville, on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, Feb. 23rd, 1914.

This convention is called by Rock county farmers and business men for the purpose of giving all citizens who feel interested a chance to get together and consider and discuss the high rate of taxation in Rock county.

When we have complained and protested about this high rate of taxation, we have been met with the reply that there are no other ways of paying taxes except to go higher. Members of the state tax commission recently told us that our taxes will steadily and continuously increase and go higher the years go by and that there is no remedy.

Death was due to a complication of diseases and he had suffered with lung trouble for more than a year being confined to his bed for the past two weeks. ## COUNTY MANDAMUS ACTION IS ARGUED IN MADISON TODAY

State Makes Weak Defense Before Judge Stevens on Janesville Reassessment Tangle.

District Attorney Stanley G. Dunwiddie was at Madison today, where he argued in circuit court the mandamus action from Rock county against the state treasurer, Henry Johnson, to compel the payment of some $3,000, the cost of a reassessment of the city of Janesville in 1911 to Rock county, the money having been withheld by the state from money due the county last fall.

Attorney General Owen appeared for the state and made a weak defense of the state's proceedings in the case, according to advices received from Madison. He insisted that the state officials had followed the law in the matter. Mr. Dunwiddie made an able argument. His brief covered every phase of the situation and is now filed with Judge Stevens in the circuit court for Janesville.

Judge Stevens granted Mr. Owen until March 5 to file a brief setting forth the state's position and allowed Mr. Dunwiddie five days after that in which to file a reply. Judge Stevens will then take the case under advisement. Indications point to a speedy and amicable settlement of the case as far as Rock county is concerned, but the difficulty will then rest entirely between the city and the state.

INSTRUCTIONS READ BY PASTORS IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Letter of Archbishop Messmer Containing Lenten Regulations, Is Subject of Sermons.

At St. Patrick's and St. Mary's Roman Catholic churches yesterday, Rev. Father W. A. Gobel read the Lenten regulations as issued by Archbishop Messmer. Lent begins Ash Wednesday, February 25, and will continue until Easter Sunday, April 12. The Catholic regulations as read by Rev. Father Mahoney are:

1. All days of Lent except Sundays are fast days of obligation, on which those who are obliged to fast any special indulgent and custom, coffee, tea, and cocoa with a piece of bread in the morning and the use of butter, eggs and milk are allowed in the evening. For sufficient reason, the principal meal may be taken in the evening instead of at noon. Flesh meat is allowed at the principal meal on week days except Wednesday and Fridays, and Saturdays in ember week (March 7) and Holy week (April 11). On fast days in Lent flesh meat and fish including oysters, crabs, frogs, turtles, etc. are never allowed at the same meal.

This rule applies to every day in Lent, including Sundays, and to all who are bound to fast from other regulations. Meals may, however, be prepared with the drippings of either fat or lard.

Persons excused from fast may use meat more than once a day either on fast days in Lent or outside of that period.

2. Catholics who have reached the age of reason, who are not physically infirm, are obliged to fast. When it is physically or morally impossible or when it entails serious difficulty, they are excused from it.

3. Catholics who have completed their twenty-first year of age, are bound to fast. The church exempts from fasting, however, the sick and those in feeble health, women nursing children, all those engaged in laborious and exhausting occupations. Anyone in doubt as to whether he is excused or not, should consult his pastor.

In virtue of an Apostolic indulgence, permit workmen and their families the use of flesh meat at the principal meal, with the exception of Fridays Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of Holy week.

4. Persons excused from the law of fast and abstinence should perform some other good works of piety and charity in the spirit of Christian penance and satisfaction. "Redeem the time, because the days are evil," the custom of abstaining from intoxicating drinks, of staying away from theatres, dances, cards parties and other places of amusement is advised.

The flower was first found in Sumatra and was called Rafflesia Schadenburgia, in honor of its discoverer (whoever he was).

CHICAGO ARCHITECT DRAWS IDEAL PLANS FOR SOCIAL CENTER

Combines Recreation, and Study Features to Comply With Wisconsin's Idea.

Professor Edward J. Ward accompanied by Dwight H. Perkins, passed through this city Friday on their way to Madison. Professor Ward is identified with the extension department of the University of Wisconsin, and Mr. Perkins is a member of the architectural firm of Perkins, Fellows and Hamilton of Chicago. For the past five years this firm has planned the school houses for Chicago and vicinity. Mr. Perkins has also had charge of the plans for all of the school houses used as recreation centers in that city. He has recently combined the ideas of school and recreation buildings and his latest efforts have been directed toward making school houses that would fulfill the two-fold purpose of a daily school and nightly congregating place for the citizens of the community. In this he has been very successful and is now drawing plans for several communities which will allow them to erect a building that will serve both purposes at an expense no greater than that of an ordinary school house of the same size. Among the features of this new plan are, a moving picture theatre, which in the day time serves as the main assembly room, and an enormous stage in connection with this auditorium, separated in the day time by a sliding wall and used as a room for the kindergarten work. In many of these plans there will be a great saving of space and expense.

Professor Ward is the father of the idea that the school house should be the clearing house for political ideas. He would have regular nightly meetings in every school house in the community for the purpose of getting the citizens to take a more active interest in political matters. The Chicago Tribune of Friday, February 20, he is quoted as saying, "The schoolhouse should be used for the education of children, for the recreation of the youth and for the political instruction and training of the adult. The steel trust spent $70,000,000 for a great plant at Gary and run it day and night. This is an efficient plant of Chicago has about $70,000,000 invested in her school houses and uses them less than one-half of the time. This is inefficiency."

While Professor Ward was in this city yesterday, he said, "Perkins is a great architect. He has done a great deal by combining these two ideas of school and congregating places for adults in the same building. I am going to try to get him identified with our extension department, in order that he may aid the people of this state in the construction of school houses, in remodeling their old buildings, in the school system. You know we have a law now that provides that the school board shall open the school buildings to any meeting of public nature. We can never expect to develop intelligent voters until we develop an interest in political welfare on the part of every citizen."

One of Professor Ward's pet formulas in bringing out the idea of the value of the social center movement is, "Too many cooks spoil the broth." Too many voters will result in less efficient and more expensive government. But are we trying to make good broth or develop good food? If our aim in political endeavor is to secure good government alone, then democracy is not the most expedient method of securing it. But if we are aiming to make good citizens, an intelligent participation by each and every citizen, is the true solution of the question."

SCIENCE NOTES

An improvement recently made is a non-splintering glass which will withstand a much greater strain than heretofore, and in the event of its being effectively broken by a blow the glass will not splinter and injure anyone who may happen to be standing near or under it. The innovation consists of two panes of glass with a thin sheet of celluloid between the two panes being held by a coating of glycerine. A heavy blow with a hammer is required to shatter this combination, and when broken in this manner the pieces are held together by the celluloid.

Thieves and swindlers are very quick to seize upon the latest developments of science in order to facilitate the plans of their rascality. The microphone has now been found to be of great value in picking a combination lock, such as used on safes. In turning the knob of the lock a slight sound is made when the proper number comes up. The working point, and this can even be heard by a sensitive ear. However, it is impracticable to most persons, but by using a microphone it is an easy matter to hear the sounds. A suitable form of telephone receiver is employed, and it is applied against the case next the lock. A pair of rubber ear tubes are used with the telephone. Thus equipped, any person with a little experience will be enabled to open the safe.

By means of time signals from the Eiffel Tower it is possible for the position of a vessel at sea to be determined within a distance of 30 feet, and arrangements are now in progress to make use of the tower station as the center of a world time distribution scheme. The position of the globe will receive the time signals and then transmit them within their own range, so that in a very short space of time the time will be known all over the world within one-hundredth of a second. Fifteen governments are participating in this scheme and it is thought that others will soon enter the union. The tower at Paris was selected as the center because it is at present the best equipped station in the world, and it is anticipated that it will remain the foremost for the French government has expressed a great interest in the international time proposition and it will maintain this station in a manner which will keep it in the lead.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD-TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Brust Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburg Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

STICK-TO-IT-IVENESS.

We all know the man who could do good work—if he would.

He abounds in every line of human endeavor. He is not exactly careless or lacking in ambition, for often he works by fits and starts.

He doesn't last.

He will not stick at anything long enough to accomplish good results or to do all that he could. He is often a procrastinator, putting off today's task until tomorrow. He fails to realize that the ease of doing a thing decreases by geometrical progression as it is put off—that is, tomorrow it is twice as hard as it is today, the next day it will be four times as difficult, the following day eight times, and so on until it becomes impossible.

Some one asked Anthony Trollope, the novelist whose works were very popular a few decades ago and are still read by many, for his recipe for getting through so much work.

"The best recipe I know for novel writing," said Mr. Trollope, "is a patch of cobble's wax on the seat of my chair. And I take great pains to sit upon it."

He possessed the secret of stick-to-it-iveness.

Dr. Johnson said, "A man may write at any time if he will set himself doggedly to it." Same idea as Trollope's, you see, but not expressed so figuratively.

And a man may not only write, but do anything else that is within the compass of his powers if he will set himself doggedly to it.

It is perseverance that counts, not genius. Some of the wisest of men have expressed disbelief in the inspiration that goes generally by the name of genius. For example, Edison said that in his opinion genius is one-tenth inspiration and nine-tenths perspiration. He is a shining example of wonderful success achieved by hard work, although, of course, with the endowment of tremendous brain power.

There is a slang phrase which expresses the idea of perseverance as well, perhaps, as any short formula can. It is:

Go to it!

If you have anything to do that is worth doing, go to it.

And after you have gone to it and you find that it takes longer than you thought at the outset—

Stick to it!

Leonard N. Davis, whose paintings are being exhibited in Washington at the headquarters of the National Geographic society, is an artist who paints without a brush. All his colors are put on the canvas with a knife. His pictures are of Alaskan scenes and those who have been there declare he has captured the spirit of the north, and has found a way to transfer the very atmosphere to the canvas.

Seek Appreciation of Others.

Mark Twain once said: "Be good, and you'll be lonesome." Nevertheless, most of us try in our own fashion to achieve that brand of loneliness. It is a characteristic of the average individual to "put the best foot forward." We wish to deserve well of our associates, and the desire to be, or at least appear to be, what others expect us to be is an underlying fact of civilization.

MOTHER! IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If cross, feverish, constipated, bilious, stomach sour, give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children naturally will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated or if the child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough inside cleansing is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for use. Children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THERE are a great many faults and bad habits which I possess. There are others which, for lack of temptation or some similar reason, I don't happen to possess, yet which I can thoroughly understand.

But there are some failings, vices, weaknesses, call them what you will,—that I simply cannot understand. And chief among these is profanity.

Drunkness is a terrible vice but it often has the excuse, or rather the explanation, of a terrible temptation.

The crimes of passion and hate are fearful things under the influence of emotions so strong that their sanity is unseated by them.

The gambler, the outlawed thief, the thief within sin of these and many more like them, I can at least understand, but the man who makes a habit of trailing his speech and giving an outlet to his annoyance,—well he is completely beyond my understanding.

A man who would dishonor his country's flag would be a pariah to all decent men. To my mind, the man who dishonors the symbols of his country's—if not his own,—religion is just as deserving of contempt.

"But I can't make myself emphatic enough without you! What an acknowledgment! You mean there isn't enough sinon pure force in your character to way into people's consciousness by the words you use."

Listen. I once knew an editor who had remarkable control of his staff. Never in the most trying moments, and if any business could pre- with it,—did he ever use a word of profanity. Instead of dissipating his force in expletives or loudness of speech, he put it into the quality of his tone. And he didn't have the slightest difficulty in communicating his desires those who commit them are usually they jumped!

The little man puts his force into profanity. He blows off his force like a steam whistle. The big man bottles up his energy and really moves things with it, like the powerful engine.

Some men think they have shown enough sin to stop. They stop at the point of profanity before women. When I come into contact with men of that type I think of the man who started to tell an evil story and before doing so leered around and inquired cautiously, "Are there any ladies present?" No, answered a man who did not care for suggestive stories, "but there are several gentlemen."

IF THIS whole world followed you—
Followed to the letter—
Would it be a nobler world,
All deceit and falsehood buried
From it altogether?
Malice, selfishness and lust
Banished from beneath the crust
Covering human hearts from view—
Tell me, if it followed you,
Would the world be better?

FOODS FOR TODAY.

Some ways of serving the common things in an uncommon way:

Hominy Crescents.—Soak half a cup of hominy in half a cup of water 15 minutes, and put to cook in a double boiler with a cup and a half of milk; when done, add a teaspoonful of salt, a quarter of a teaspoon of paprika, a grating of nutmeg and the yolks of two eggs; spread in a shallow pan a half an inch deep. When cool cut in crescents, crumb, egg and crumb, then fry in deep fat.

Baked Ham.—Soak the ham over night; in the morning put in the kettle one onion, one carrot, six cloves, six peppercorns, one bay leaf and water to cover. Simmer for two hours. Remove the skin, place on a rack in the baking pan, baste often with a cupful of cider and cup of water in which the ham was boiled. Bake for two or three hours. When done, stir one tablespoonful of brown sugar in two of cider, rub over the ham and brown. Serve hot with the liquor from the pan, strained and skimmed. Fill cream puffs made the size of a walnut with seasoned cream cheese which is made rich with whipped cream. Serve with the salad.

Frozen Cheese With Figs.—Wash two good sized cream cheeses and beat with them a half cup of stiffly beaten cream; sweeten to taste and bury in ice and salt. When ready to serve, cut in slices and with a small biscuit cutter cut into rounds; make a small depression in the center and fill with a rich preserved fig. Steam end up.

Beets and Turnips.—Cook until tender even sized turnips and beets; scoop out the centers and fill one with canned peas, the other with small string beans. Season well and arrange alternately on the serving dish and garnish with parsley.

Tomatoes and Corn.—Stew down half a can of tomatoes with onion and parsley, strain them and put in layers with well seasoned corn, with crumbs and butter on top. Bake brown.

Cold fish served with chopped pickles and salad dressing makes a good salad.

Women Worth While

MADAME HAVENITH.

(By Selene Armstrong Harmon.)
Of many girlhood triumphs, for as Miss Helen Fouke she was one of the belles of the capital. Her husband, when she was married to him, was counselor of the legation and also had served as charge d'affaires during the prolonged absence from Washington of Baron Moncheur, at that time minister from Belgium. A few days before his marriage to Miss Fouke, M. Havenith was ordered to Tcheran. It was at the Persian capital that Madame Havenith spent the first few years of her married life, and there her young son, Horace, was born. In Tcheran the Haveniths occupied a splendid residence furnished with objects of beauty from both the Orient and the Occident. Its colonnades, pergolas and spacious grounds contained an almost tropical growth of plants and flowers, which added to the attractiveness of the place. Among Madame Havenith's cherished souvenirs of her life in Persia is a big book filled with lovely views of the Belgian legation at Tcheran, and with pictures of her own child and the young son of the regent of Persia at play together.

Household Hints

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.
A little salt added to the custard keeps it from drying and caking and adds to the flavor.

And butter for a salad with a little lemon juice and salt, try using a wire potato masher. This chops the butter finely and blends the two well.

When baking custard or meringues, bake the crust a little before putting in the filling. This will keep it from getting soaked or soggy. A few drops of lavender poured in a glass of hot water will purify the air of a sick room or cooking odors.

THE TABLE.
Halibut Steak Baked With Tomatoes.—Make a rich sauce of tomatoes, fresh or canned, seasoning with butter rolled in flour, sugar, pepper, onion juice and salt, adding, if you like it, a sweet pepper, seeded and minced. Cook green tomatoes, strain, rubbing through a colander and cool. Lay the halibut in oil and lemon juice for an hour, place upon the grating of your covered roaster, pour the sauce over it, cover and bake twelve minutes to the pound. Sprinkle with an cheese over the fish and cook five minutes longer. Serve upon a hot dish, pouring the sauce over it.

Baked Macaroni.—Break half a pound of macaroni into short lengths; make soft in boiling salted water. It must be clear and soft, but not broken. Drain and put a layer in the bottom of buttered pudding dish. Dot with butter, sprinkle lightly with cayenne and salt to taste, cover with grated cheese and on this put another layer of macaroni. Fill the dish in this manner, having cheese for the top layer. Put in a cupful of milk; cover and bake half an hour. Uncover and brown.

Potato Souffle.—Into two cupfuls of mashed potatoes work three cupfuls of hot milk in which two tablespoonfuls of butter has been melted. Beat all the lumps until smooth. Season with salt and pepper. Beat four eggs very light and whip them into the potato and milk. When thoroughly mixed pour into a deep greased pudding dish and bake in a good oven until brown.

Apple Pudding.—Into two cupfuls of mashed potato work three cupfuls of hot milk in which two tablespoonfuls of butter has been melted. Beat all the lumps until smooth. Season with salt and pepper. Beat four eggs very light and whip them into the potato and milk. When thoroughly mixed pour into a deep greased pudding dish and bake in a good oven until brown.

Apple Pudding.—Into two cupfuls of prepared flour chop a tablespoonful of butter until it is like a coarse yellow butter. Make a batter of this buttered flour and a teacup of milk and three beaten eggs. Beat four eggs half a dozen peeled and sliced apples, wiped dry, and dredged with flour; stir these into the batter and turn into a greased pudding mold. Boil for two hours. Eat with a hot lemon juice.

Lemon Sauce.—Cook for fifteen minutes one cupful of sugar with three tablespoonfuls of boiling water, a half teaspoonful of grated lemon peel and the strained juice of one lemon. Take from the fire and pour gradually upon the beaten yolks of three eggs. Set in boiling water and stir until the edges are set, but not until they begin to harden.

Custard Lemon Pie.—Soak a cupful of crumbs for an hour in a little milk. Cream together a half cupful of sugar and half as much butter, whip into them the beaten yolks of three eggs and the whites of one, reserving the other whites for the meringue. Now add the juice and the grated rind of two lemons, then the soaked crumbs. Line a large plate with puff paste, pour in the

EVERYDAY TALKS FOR EVERYDAY PEOPLE

BY FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.

About half the papers printed nowadays have such a broad streak of yellow that it leaves the space for decent reading rather narrow. One of the most run tricks of this class of papers is to throw a bottle of red ink across the front page telling in lurid words of some deed that has been enacted in the course of the day. The fact that often the truth is so garbled that while you could not call the editor the name you feel sure fit him but could say he was a man who did not go in for chasing himself to facts makes the paper no less sought after.

You can come back at this sketch and say it's the kind of papers the people want. "Let the people rule." Is it because this class of paper is so good in itself or because it's generally cheaper that it is so popular? Do the reading public really want that kind of a paper? Do we want papers with a tendency to distract instead of construct; that instead of giving its most promising place to news gives it over to stuff that should be labeled as rot?

Is the head of a family doing his duty as he should when he brings into his family or allows to be brought in a paper that the likes of was not known in his childhood—unless it was that pink sheet that was kept well outside of the sight and reach of all the children and half of the grown-ups? You can guess the half of the grown-ups that was not supposed to know about the said sheet. Are we losing our power to think or do we dislike to look ahead and see what the result of all this undesirable reading put so willingly into the hands of the children is going to do for them? Think it's going to help?

"Within the law" seems to be some people's religion. For an individual that may be all right, especially if one can get a lease of life; but for a paper that before it is dry from the press is sent out on its powerful errand it is an entirely different proposition. The power of the press can not be overrated. We can preach, exhort, teach, pray, but it is putting it too strong to say that the press is the big educator of them all.

There's more homes in the class who know no reading save the newspaper than the reader can well imagine. People who have no homes of their own, who are not financially able to stay in places where they can have access to good books—so many men and women who rely on the daily paper for their mental food. In some cases a highly seasoned diet!

While every family may not see their way clear to a library, the cost of starting one is not so high but what the family who live inside of an income that you have to get a field glass to see over start and gradually become the owners of one.

The public libraries are ever at your elbow; there is small excuse for partaking of the diet offered one by the papers that are a bar to real civilization. Give your children what you had—clean reading in the home.

Her Object.

Little Dot had asked a lot of questions, and her father was growing impatient. Finally he protested: "Oh, Dot, I can't answer half your questions." "I know you can't, papa," she replied; "but I want to find out which half you can answer."

MODEL HE LOVED IS A WITNESS FOR HIS WIFE IN LATTER'S DIVORCE SUIT

John A. Anderson and Miss Lorraine Parker.

Miss Lorraine Parker, cloak model and chorus girl, is helping Mrs. John A. Anderson in the latter's divorce suit in New York city. The wife alleges wrong doing between her husband, who is a wealthy contractor, and the model, and asks for absolute divorce. Miss Parker, who doesn't like Anderson any more, is Mrs. Anderson's chief witness.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a woman thirty years old. I have one little girl two years old. I am deeply in love with a man twenty-two years of age. He wants me to marry him. Please give me some advice how to get a divorce from my husband.

JESSIE.
Is your husband unfaithful to you? Has he beaten you and knocked you down? Does he refuse to support you or to live with you? Or is he a fairly good man trying to give you a good home and be a good husband and father?

What right have you to fall in love with another man, when you are married and have a child? Even if you do not love your husband any more, you should remember your duty to your child and her right to have her own father.

You are eight years older than your lover. He is too young to know whether he can love you for life or not. It is easy for him to say now that he wants to marry you. If you divorced your husband he probably would change his mind. Better stay on the safe side and try to be a good wife.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Is there any way I can manage my nose to make it smaller, as it is quite broad? If so, will you please explain how? (2) Do you think it is good to cut the ends of the hair just before full moon? My hair is thin and when braided it tapers almost to nothing. I wondered if it would grow more even if I cut the ends.

A FRIEND.
(1) It is almost impossible to change the shape of the nose without an operation. You might try a pulling motion toward the tip, outward or downward. Also, it may help you if you will attach one of the spring clothespins to the broad part when resting at night, leaving it attached all night. This is apt to be very uncomfortable, however.

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backache, headaches, constant misery and as a result despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one great remedy for this condition. It goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency. Advertisement. Comfortable, however.

Mrs. Charles A. Drury.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Opton; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water and drop in one Opton tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily, and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye strain, cataracts, and other eye disorders, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others get clear, healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given. DELIGHTED.

Mother-in-law—it is so kind of you, Joseph, to take the trouble at all. On the contrary, it will be one of the most delightful drives I ever had.

ONE MORE CHANCE FOR HIGH QUINTE

Coach Curtis Declares His Men Can Make State Meet Only by Playing Elimination Games.

The only consolation left for the Janesville high school basketball quintet in gaining admission to the state meet next month is to play elimination contests with five in the southern section of the state. At least that is the situation looks at the present time.

Coach Curtis believes his team will be given a fighting chance, despite their defeat at Elkhorn last Friday evening. When the five started the game, they thought they had easy picking, but were relieved of such an idea before the game was very many minutes old. They were completely outclassed for a time. The five had no confidence, stated Curtis. "They need fighting spirit hammered into them, and they are going to get it this week."

The Madison high school players, who are declared to be the best five in the state, claim that Janesville are represented by a great team. They expressed their opinion following the game at Elkhorn, where they were defeated by a score of 15 to 10. The Power City quintet on the local floor a week ago last Friday. "In the game between La Crosse and us," stated one of the Madison men, "we played out opponents at all stages, but their one man team, (Weisse, the La Crosse center) beat us. The Janesville five could defeat La Crosse."

This news sounded encouraging to Janesville, but they took no heed, until they were defeated by Elkhorn. Perhaps the team will now wake up, and try to capture honors, which they might claim if they would play real basketball. The Monroe game is scheduled for Friday night. The game will take place at the Green county seat, and will be played on the armory floor, one of the best floors in the state.

On the Spur of the Moment

The Eugenid Bride.

My dear, are you can be my bride hygienic.

I'll have to feel your pulse and see if you're long.

I must know if you've followed ways hygienic.

And not smoked cigarettes when you were young.

Oh, come not to the minister, I prithe, But to a doctor who will try your case.

For life would not be very happy with them, If your lungs were not in their proper place.

The Doc will test your blood in form specific.

Hell search out every germ that's in your lungs.

You must go through an ordeal that's terrific.

Ere you can join the matrimonial game.

You talk of love. Ah, that's a passe notion.

Dan Cupid is a creature obsolete.

Who used to serve a silly sort of potion.

That to the bonehead lovers tasted sweet.

Talk not of heart, but talk of bone and muscle.

Of lungs and stomach, liver lights and such.

If you can't throw an ox in one short tussle.

You'll not as wife amount to very much.

They'll breed us as they breed the fancy cattle.

Then match us up and join us in wedlock.

Stop That Cough In A Minute

Would you give morphine or chloroform to your baby? Take it yourself? Coughs that get most patent cough cures contain one or both. They stop a cough in a minute, which is dangerous. A cough should be cured internally by healing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, throwing it out, which is done by coughing. Badger Cough Balsam does not contain morphine or chloroform. It is made by percolation from bloodroot, lobelia, pine bark, wild cherry, etc. It cures a cough in a few days without filling the lungs with poisonous phlegm. The irritation is relieved, the lungs healed without danger of pneumonia. It's safe for children and old people. Get a bottle today for 25 cents. Badger Cough Balsam is made by Mr. Pfenning, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts.
